Weill Cornell Medicine Monitored Subrecipients and Claimed Allowable National Institutes of Health Award Costs

What OIG Found
As a prime recipient of NIH funds, WCM awarded subawards and monitored subaward recipients in compliance with Federal regulations and NIH grant policies because it adhered to the subrecipient monitoring procedures that it established in response to the implementation of the Uniform Guidance at 45 CFR part 75. Specifically, WCM performed a risk assessment for each proposed subrecipient that evaluated areas such as prior audit findings, geographic location (foreign or domestic), pending or prior litigation, established financial systems, financial performance, prior working relationship, and the type of research to be performed.

As both a prime recipient and a subrecipient of NIH funds, WCM claimed allowable expenditures on subawards it both awarded and received.
